GIVES LIMIT TO SALOONS

Board of Commissioners Decides That There Shall be One For Every 1000 Persons.

NO LICENSES GRANTED TODAY

"Drys" Ask That Action be Postponed For Month Because Proctor Law Has Not Been Published.

The county commissioners gave the saloons the limit.

At their regular monthly meeting this afternoon the board, by authority of the power vested in them by the Proctor bill, recently passed and signed Saturday by Governor Marshall, they decided that Rushville shall have one saloon for every one thousand inhabitants. How many saloons the city shall have is still an open question for debate, for the law is uncertain as to how the number of people in this city or any other city of this class shall be determined.

The commissioners did not grant any licenses at their meeting today, and the time at which they will act on the nine applications for saloon licenses, which will be made, is still indefinite. "We intend to wait until we know something about the law under which they are granted and the law by which they are regulated," said a member of the board this afternoon. So far no one has ever seen or read a copy of the last Proctor bill passed. The commissioners received this morning a copy of the regulatory bill, which was sent out by the brewers. They expect to wait until they get copies from the State presses.

Attorneys for the "drys" appeared before the board and asked that the board postpone action on the license applications for a month. The attorneys for the applicants urged that action be taken at once. The "drys" do not want the commissioners to act yet on the theory that Proctor bill No. 3, under which licenses are to be granted, has never been read by any persons over the State, not even the legislators. It was rushed through the Legislature without a reading. The "drys" say that litigation will follow which may change the complexion of the law. They also hold that it may be shown that the local option election may be shown to be invalid.

CARTHAGE RESIDENT DEAD

Isaac Doran, 73 Years Old, Succumbs From Brights Disease.

Isaac Doran, 73 years old, died Saturday about midnight at his home in Carthage. Mr. Doran had suffered for a long time from Brights' disease which caused his death. He had never married. Mr. Doran is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Emma Murphy and Mrs. John Murphy of Indianapolis; and Mrs. Minnie Smith of Marion. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock at the residence, conducted by the Rev. W. W. Otis, pastor of the Hanover church. Burial in Knights-town.

WANTS RED MEN OFFICE

Mayor Sweigart of Hartford City, Candidate For Junior Sagamore.

Mayor G. W. Sweigart of Hartford City, a former New Castle man, has returned from Rushville, where he went to attend a meeting of the Red Men's lodge, says the New Castle Times. Mayor Sweigart will be a candidate for great junior sagamore before the coming State meeting to be held at Indianapolis in October. He was a candidate at the last convention, but was defeated. However, he ran second in a field of a dozen or more candidates and expects to get across the tape first in the race this year. He will travel over the State during the next few months to build fences in preparation for the coming contest.

BRIEF ILLNESS ENDS IN DEATH

Mrs. Eliza Cohee, 68 Years Old,
Passes Away at Home of Sister in Fayette County.

BURIAL TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Eliza Cohee, wife of Benjamin Cohee, died yesterday at the home of John McCarty in Fayette county. Mrs. Cohee was sixty-eight years of age. She had been ill about eight days, suffering from pneumonia, which caused her death. Besides her husband she is survived by four sons, Thomas of Indianapolis, Louis of Jackson township, James and Harvey of this city, and one daughter, Mrs. Katie McCarty of Fayette county. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock at the residence of Harvey Cohee in this city, conducted by the Rev. A. W. Jamieson. Burial will take place at East Hill cemetery.

LEGISLATE CIVIL ENGINEERS OUT

Bill Enacted by Legislature Provides That Only County Surveyors
May do Public Work.

STEWART FORCED TO RETIRE

Since the legislature has enacted a law whereby it is compulsory for the county commissioners over the State to employ only county surveyors to make all plans and specifications for all improvements of every kind, A. L. Stewart, civil engineer of the city, will go out of the surveying and engineering business. He will complete what work he now has charge of and then quit the profession entirely.

Mr. Stewart has built up quite a practice in this county and southeastern Indiana on roads, drainage and bridges, but under the new law can not be employed on any public work.

Many of the best engineers over the State are practically driven out of their profession by the enactment of the law.

RUSH COUNTY HAS ANOTHER SISTER

For Fourth Time in as Many Days
She is Switched Into Senatorial District.

JOINED WITH SHELBY AT LAST

Republicans Know That There is Little Chance as Has Been Proved in Judicial Circuit.

According to information from Indianapolis late this afternoon, it seemed imminent that the Lieb legislative re-apportionment bill, a party measure, would not be passed at this session. If the bill, which provides that Rush shall be joined with Shelby in a State senatorial district, is not passed, Rush will remain with Hancock and Fayette.

Rush county's head is in a whirl. Why shouldn't it be? In less than a week it has been in no less than four different combinations for a joint senatorial district and according to information from Indianapolis today it was expected that this session of the Legislature would not be closed without some more juggling of the counties over the State. Anything to "Gerrymander" the State so that a Democratic General Assembly will be elected for years to come.

At no time has Rush county's representation in the Lower House been changed. All of the re-apportionment bills have provided that Rush county shall have one representative. It seems imminent that Rush county will at least be allowed to elect one State representative for the next Legislature in two years.

Last Wednesday the Lieb legislative re-apportionment bill was passed by the House of Representatives. It provided that Rush county should be linked with Hancock and Hamilton counties in a Senatorial district. For several years past, Hancock, Fayette and Rush counties have been electing a State senator and it was from that district that Senator E. E. Moore of Connersville was elected. At a caucus of Democratic legislators last Thursday night, the Lieb measure was changed so that Rush county would be joined with Fayette and Franklin in a Senatorial district. But that was not enough.

Saturday the bill was again changed to read that Rush and Shelby counties should elect a State senator. Local politicians have argued that none of the districts would stand and that, if left to the Democratic legislature long enough, Rush county as well as practically every other county in the State would be tactically arranged so that there would be little chance of safe Republican majorities.

Here today and gone tomorrow is the motto of the counties which have been made sisters to Rush county. It seems very likely that the Legislature will adjourn this evening and leave Rush and Shelby county to fight it out for a State senator as they have done in the past for court officials in the sixteenth judicial district.

There is little hope for a Republican senator under the re-apportionment bill as it now reads. Rush county Republicans know that they have little chance against the big Democratic majority in Shelby county. That has been proven in past years in the judicial district, when it has been impossible to elect a Republican county official with few exceptions. Rush county Republicans are resigned to their fate.

NOBLE AWAITS TIME FOR TRIAL

What Promises to be Very Bitterly
Fought Case Begins Tomorrow Morning.

PROSECUTION IS DETERMINED

Rumored That Noble Has Told His Attorneys Very Likely Story—
Many Witnesses.

Charged with murder in the first degree, Ben Noble of Decatur county, accused of being the slayer of Albert Sprague a thrifty and prominent farmer of the same county, by whom he was employed at the time, sits in the Rush county jail waiting for the hands on the court house clock dial to move around to 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, when he will be taken into the court room in the court house to stand trial. Although Noble's trial has been postponed on several occasions, it seems very certain now that the case will come up for hearing tomorrow morning.

The details of that horrible murder which occurred at the Sprague home on the morning of July 17 are still fresh in the minds of most people of this and adjoining counties. Noble's employer was murdered, by whom it still remains to be seen. Suspicion fell on Noble immediately after the dead body of the farmer was found in bed, where he had been shot to death with a shot gun, supposedly while he lay asleep beside his wife. Noble asserted his innocence and made no attempt to get away. He was arrested during the day after the murder and taken to Indianapolis at once for safe keeping as it was feared that injury might be done to him, since the feeling was very high against him.

During his stay in the Marion county jail, Noble, in a written confession admitted the crime. It has been stated that officials used every persuasive power known to man, and made Noble many promises, before he was convinced that confession was the best thing. It is said that Noble was made to believe that he would be sentenced and then would be pardoned within a year, should he confess to the crime. After the confession, Noble entered a plea of guilty in the Decatur circuit court before a jury which disagreed. It is stated authoritatively that five jurors held out for a death sentence, while the other seven wished to imprison him for life. After that trial Noble took a new lease on life and decided to fight the case, entering a plea of not guilty. Arguing that Noble could not get a fair trial in Decatur county, his attorneys succeeded in getting a change of venue to this county.

Decatur county people are determined that Noble shall be convicted of first degree murder at any cost as well as are the friends and relatives of the widow of the murdered man. It is to that end that they have retained so many prominent attorneys to assist in the prosecution. James Cox and Ralph Sprague of Columbus and George W. Bruce of Greensburg, all powerful attorneys, will help in the attempt to convict Noble.

That Noble would not get a fair trial in Decatur county is evidenced by an incident that occurred when Prosecutor Dennis O'Neil was visiting the scenes of the tragedy last week to gather evidence. A farmer accosted the State's attorney and asked why Noble should be given a trial. He could see no reason why the alleged murderer should not be given a life sentence or hung. It seems that the trial will be one of the most bitterly fought ones ever held in this section of the State. One of Noble's attorneys has been heard to say that the Decatur farm hand tells a very likely story.

Mrs. Sprague, who lost her voice on the night her husband was murdered, has not recovered it and it is feared that she will not recover it. It is believed that the vocal cords in her throat were paralyzed by her screams of terror, when she learned of the tragedy. Since that night, which was a terrible one for her, she has been unable to speak above a whisper and her general health, too, is said to be much impaired because of the shock.

AGED MAN DIES FROM PARALYSIS

James D. Sloan, 69 Years Old, Former Resident of This City, Passes Away.

HIS DEATH WAS UNEXPECTED

James D. Sloan, 69 years old, a former resident of this city, died at his home in Indianapolis yesterday morning at nine o'clock. For the past twenty-five years he had lived in Indianapolis and was a veteran employe of the Parry Manufacturing company. Mr. Sloan had been in ill health a year, but his death was unexpected. Saturday he was about his home and called upon several neighbors. He died within a half hour after suffering a paralytic stroke.

Mr. Sloan was a member of the order of Knights of Pythias. Arrangements have not been completed. Besides the widow, Mrs. Louisa E. Sloan, a son and three daughters survive, as follows: Howard M. C. Sloan, Indianapolis; Mrs. W. L. Montgomery, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Mrs. Jacob Cunningham, West Lafayette; and Miss Rhea Sloan, who resides at home; also one sister, Mrs. Alvin Hineman, of this city.

JURY APPEARS FOR FIRST TIME

Convenes in Last Week of Court to Hear Case Sent Here From
New Castle, May 29, 1909.

IS CONTRACT SUIT FOR $125

A jury convened in the circuit court this morning for the first time this term, four weeks of which have already elapsed. The jurors were called to decide in the case of Lewis W. Davis and Alonzo L. Davis of New Castle against Harry E. Jennings and Amos Mendenhall of the same city on a contract, demanding $125.00.

The case which was sent here on a change of venue occupied the time of the court most of the day and it was not expected that a decision would be had before tonight or tomorrow. The suit is a very old one, having been sent here May 29, 1909. Beach & Mikels of New Castle and Sparks and Gary of this city are representing the plaintiffs. Clay E. Hunt of New Castle and Megee & Kiplinger of this city are attorneys for the defendants.

MORRISTOWN MAY PLAY HERE

Game Would Decide Which of Two Teams Should Represent
This District.

HAVE NOT BEEN DEFEATED

State Meet Will be Held Friday and Saturday—Connersville Wins
From Richmond.

The basket ball tournament to be held Friday and Saturday at Indiana University is attracting no little attention among the high school students of this city. The local team has made a fine showing, having defeated the strongest teams in this section by a good margin of points with the exception of Morristown.

The management has been trying to arrange a game with Morristown for Wednesday night, but it is not certain that they will play. According to the "dope" both teams are evenly matched and a game between these two teams should be the best of the season. Morristown has not lost a contest this year, having defeated Connersville, Shelbyville, Franklin and Mooresville. Rushville has defeated Shelbyville one, Connersville twice, North Vernon, once and Madison, once. From the scores of the two teams it lies between them as to who should represent this district.

Rushville will not concede the championship of this district to Morristown and the game if played will be the deciding one.

According to the Indianapolis papers the Carthage team has been entered in the State meet. This must be a mistake as Carthage has no team and has played no games this year, so far as is known.

If the local team enters the State contest, it is thought it would have a good chance of winning the championship. Among the teams which have entered the meet are Lebanon, Crawfordsville, Marion, South Bend, and many others which are considered the best in the State. Rushville, while they might not win the championship, would give every team they met a hard fight and could at least make a strong bid.

In an over-time game, Friday night, Connersville defeated Richmond, 18 to 16. At the end of the last period both teams were tied and Bell for Connersville tossed the final goal.

After being defeated here Friday night, Madison was again beaten on Saturday afternoon by Shelbyville, the score being 24 to 3.

rives Home From Washington.

A delegation of friends were at the station to meet them. Mr. Barnard will resume the practice of law with William E. Jeffrey as associate.

NEIGHBORS.

All the grasping and the greed of this world come from not regarding our fellows as our neighbors. One doesn't trample his neighbors. He works with them to a common end. We must come to look on all the world as our neighbors. We must do away with the idea of classes. There isn't any justification for class lines in America. They are unjust, unwholesome, unrighteous and un-American. Why should we have class lines here in this country and one man despise another just because he has been lucky enough to make a little more money? A man has some right to be proud of what he makes with his own hands and his own brains, but he hasn't any business putting on airs over what he is merely trying to spend.—Jacob A. Riis.

ONE BIG FOOL

But He Doesn't Live in Rushville Nor Read the Republican.

A man in Connecticut gave a doctor, a specialist in catarrh, $50 to cure him of this common yet most obnoxious disease.

The specialist gave him a bottle of medicine and told him to use it.

The fool took the medicine home, took one dose, put it on a shelf and made no further effort to follow instructions.

Three months later with the medicine still on the shelf he told a friend that the specialist was a fake; that he had paid him $50 and still had catarrh.

HYOMEI (pronounce it High-ome) won't cure catarrh if you don't breathe it; it will if you breathe it regularly.

Furthermore you don't need to give a catarrh specialist you don't need to give a catarrh specialist $50 to cure you of catarrh for the specialist is yet to be born who can write a better prescription than HYOMEI.

F. B. Johnson & Co. and druggists everywhere guarantee HYOMEI to cure catarrh or money back. A complete outfit which consists of a bottle of HYOMEI a hard rubber inhaler and simple instructions for use costs only $1.00. Separate bottles of HYOMEI if afterwards needed costs but 50 cents.

Mexican Rebels Concentrating For Attack on Chihuahua.

Torreón, Mexico, March 6.—The rebel forces are laying their plans for an attack upon the city of Chihuahua. The siege will begin before the end of this week, it is believed. It is said that more than 3,000 revolutionists are advancing upon the city from four directions and that at least 1,000 of this number are already camped within twenty miles of the place. The Chihuahua federal garrison numbers about 1,000 soldiers.

MINNEAPOLIS HAS A COSTLY SUNDAY FIRE

Loss to Syndicate Block One Million and a Half.

Minneapolis, March 6.—Fanned by a strong wind, fire which threatened the entire business district early Sunday swept through the Syndicate block on Nicollet avenue, between Fifth and Sixth streets, destroying property valued at a million and a half dollars and endangering many lives.

For several hours the fire was confined to the part of the block occupied by the Model Clothing house, J. B. Hudson & Son, Jewelers, and F. W. Woolworth, 5- and 10-cent store. This third of the block is separated from the rest of the block by a thick fire wall. By flooding this wall the firemen were able to hold the fire in check for several hours.

The fire then spread to the portion of the building occupied by the Minneapolis Dry Goods company and Young, Quinlan & Co. The loss of the Minneapolis Dry Goods company is estimated at $500,000.

The upper floors of the building over the Hudson and Woolworth stores were occupied by doctors, dentists, hair dressers, manicurists and others. Many slept in rooms adjoining their offices and the firemen carried several women out to the street.

A score or more were rescued in all, and even then the firemen feared that others had perished, as the flames spread so rapidly they were driven from the building and prevented from making a thorough search.

DEVELOPS DARE-DEVILS

DRIVING AUTOS IN TRAFFIC MAKES GREAT RACE PILOTS.

Most of World's Motor Masters Have Originally Started as Chauffeurs in City Streets, Where Quick Action Is Required.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Where does the dare-devil automobile race pilot come from? This is the question asked by hundreds of the spectators who see the motor masters of today rush madly around the great road courses and speedways of the nation in quest of honor and gold.

The average race driver who is seen in the space annihilating monsters which career wildly over the tracks thinks no more of sending his steel steed along at the death-inviting pace than he would of driving a touring car through the city streets—in many cases not half so much. The fact of the matter is that two-thirds or more of the racing drivers of today were traffic drivers of yesterday.

The greatest drivers of today have been traffic and demonstration drivers. Louis Chevrolet drove traffic in New York City for five years; his brother Arthur did the same. Victor Hemery drove traffic in Germany many years before he raced a car. Ralph DePalma was a traffic driver in New York. "Wild Bob" Burman drove a demonstrating car for several years.

Most of these drivers and many others will compete in the 500-mile International Sweepstakes Race over the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, on Memorial Day, May 30 next. There have been nine entries made for the race thus far as follows: Lewis Strang, Louis Larssonneur and Joe Jagersburger, in Case cars; C. B. Baldwin, in an Inter-State "50"; Johnny Aitken, in a National "40" 1911 Speedway model; Frank P. Fox, of Indianapolis, in a Pope-Hartford, and Louis Disbrow in the same make of car; Harry Knight, in a Westcott, the other entry being a Simplex, for which no driver has been named so far. It is possible that Ralph DePalma, the mile track champion of 1910, will pilot this last named car through the long grind.

MURDEROUS ROBBER SHOOTS PATROLMEN

Then Shot Out Light and Made His Escape.

Alexandria, Ind., March 6.—After having killed Patrolman Virgil Kirkman of the Alexandria police force, a robber who had held up a pawnshop here shot Chief of Police John Ellin probably fatally and then made his escape from a house in which he had barricaded himself. The bandit has been identified as James Walker.

When the robber entered the store the proprietor gave him $30 and was handing out the diamonds when the patrolman arrived. He approached the robber with his mace instead of with the revolver. The robber turned and fired three shots at the officer. The first entered his face, another passed through his stomach and the third grazed his face. The robber ran from the store to find himself a target for another officer, who opened fire. To effect his escape in the darkness the robber shot out the electric street light, thus breaking the circuit and throwing the city into darkness.

SPRING MOVING HAS COME AHEAD OF TIME THIS YEAR

Draymen Say That Shifting of One Family Only Means Changes to Others.

MANY ARE BUYING HOMES

"No sooner had the new year began than the people of Rushville began their annual shifting about," said one drayman the other day. Another said: "Got four families to move today young man, and cannot talk to you; now see me tomorrow and I will tell of families that have moved since the holidays."

They all say that the annual late winter and spring moving season is known to every city in the country, began several weeks earlier in Rushville this year than they have ever known it to do before and say that they are expecting a day and night business as soon as the weather turns warm once more. Just why there has been so much moving since the new year began is something that the draymen claim they can not understand, but a number report having had about all the business which they could handle.

The moving has not been altogether local, say the draymen. They claim that they are called upon every few days to haul goods to some other city. They say that there are more persons moving to Rushville than are moving away.

The draymen tell very interesting and amusing stories about some of the families which they do. They do not tell the names, but they do tell of the incidents. They often say that the moving of one family often results in the moving of eight or ten more families, that otherwise would not have moved.

The statement one hears occasionally from uninformed persons that there are over a hundred empty houses in Rushville, is not true. Desirable houses are very scarce. There are about fifty empty houses in this city, some of them not very desirable, and others located around the outskirts of the city.

CASTLE GARDEN TO BE ENLARGED

New York Plans to Make It
World's Largest Aquarium.

A MILLION FOR CHANGES.

Historic Edifice, Erected as Castle Clinton Fortress in 1807, Became Theater About 1830 and Heard Jenny Lind in 1850—Lafayette, Jackson and Tyler Welcomed There.

New York may have a new aquarium, to be the largest and best equipped institution of the kind in the world, and the city will be asked for a bond issue for the erection of a new building.

It is understood that the city will be asked for a total of about $1,000,000, to be appropriated in installments as needed. In addition to the cramped quarters for visitors, the tank space has been found to be inadequate. To invest the proposed enlarged institution with the best ideas which have been worked out in similar institutions in the large cities in the world the director, Dr. Charles H. Townsend, will be sent abroad to inspect the aquariums in Europe.

Owing to the enormous amount of space lost in the present old building on account of the thick walls and bomb proof compartments the amount of space actually available for the work of the aquarium as it now stands is a very small percentage of the amount of area covered by the building. The much needed additional space will be acquired by the removal of the great thick walls and bomb proof compartments and by adding two stories to the height of the present structure. This will provide 1,692 running feet of glass, which is practically three times the present capacity, giving approximately 282 tanks.

Castle Garden Made History.
Castle Garden, the building which the aquarium now occupies and will continue to occupy, is one of the most picturesque structures in New York. The general government erected it in 1807, when the site was about 300 yards from the mainland, a part of Battery park having since been made by filling up the space between the shore at that time and the island. The structure was first known as Castle Clinton and was a fortress, which accounts for its walls of fourteen feet in thickness, supposed at the time to be bomb proof.

Fifteen years after its completion its necessity as a means of defense passed away, and the federal authorities ceded it to the city in 1822. Two years later it was leased to private individuals as a place of amusement, and its floor was laid out elaborately as an indoor garden. A stage was erected at the north side, concerts were given, and refreshments were sold to the audience, as in case of the less formal musical hall entertainments of the present time. The capacity at that time was 6,000 people accommodated in comfort, but as many as 10,000 have been known to crowd into it at a pinch.

Opera and Jenny Lind.
In the thirties it became a playhouse, and in 1847 the Havana Opera company began an engagement there, singing such operas as "Ernani," "Norma" and "La Sonnambula." Signor Ardit, Patti's conductor, was the musical director and Signorina Detusco the prima donna.

A later event, however, made Castle Garden famous as a place of amusement. This was the appearance there of Jenny Lind in a concert on Sept. 11, 1850, under the management of P. T. Barnum. To this and to the fact that the city has welcomed there such distinguished persons as the Marquis de Lafayette when he returned to America in 1824, General Andrew Jackson in 1832 and President John Tyler in 1848 the building owes its claim to historical importance and interest.

Castle Garden's career as a theater ended in May, 1855, when the building was turned into a depot for the reception of immigrants. In 1879 its interior was destroyed by fire, but the thick walls remained intact, and the interior was soon reconstructed. It was turned over to the park department and converted into an aquarium about twenty years ago.

His wages at her feet.

In early life she yearns for love,
But later it is grand
To have him come around and shove

Now when his hand is on the latch
Her care is what they'll eat.

BAILEY'S SEAT MUCH IN DOUBT

Lawyers Say Texas Senator Is Out of It.

COULDN'T RECALL RESIGNATION

It is Maintained by Lawyers Who Take This View, and They Are Backed by Precedent, That Bailey's Petulant Resignation Acted Automatically and That the Moment It Was Out He Couldn't Recall It.

Washington, March 6.—The question is being raised by lawyers in congress as to whether Joseph W. Bailey is any longer a member of the senate, notwithstanding the fact that he withdrew his resignation about six hours after it had been sent to Governor Colquitt of Texas. Some lawyers argue that the resignation acted automatically, the minute Governor Colquitt acknowledged receipt of it, and that retirement from the senate in this manner is not affected by a governor's refusal to accept the resignation.

Other lawyers are inclined to the opinion that the legislature being in session, the resignation becomes automatically effective the minute it comes before the legislature, and the action of the Texas senate in voting on the motion requesting Bailey to withdraw his resignation constituted a formal acknowledgment of it. The lawyers who take this view contend that there is a very fine question whether Bailey is not now out of the senate. Another point is whether the vice president had the right to withhold the notice of resignation after its presentation to him for submission to the senate.

What is regarded as a precedent for this situation is a case which occurred in the house in 1870, when a member of the house who had resigned was not permitted by the house to withdraw his resignation. This case, recorded in Hinds's Parliamentary Precedents, was that of Representative J. S. Golladay of Kentucky. The question arose whether the governor of Kentucky had any right to refuse to accept Golladay's resignation. It was insisted on the floor of the house that Golladay, from the time he presented his resignation, was no more a member than any stranger in the gallery.

In support of this claim, the White more case was cited as follows:
"The right of resignation is purely personal to a member, and when he has exercised this right, he becomes ipso facto no longer a member."

It is contended that the single difference between Senator Bailey's case and that of Golladay, who, by the way, never resumed his seat, lies in the fact that the latter's resignation was entered upon the journal of the house, while as the result of the action of the vice president, this was not done in Bailey's case. It is further contended that the vice president simply exceeded his authority when he shoved Senator Bailey's resignation in his pocket instead of presenting it to the senate, as Bailey requested. The action of Mr. Bailey in resigning served to emphasize the cleavage in the Democratic minority in the senate. The revolt against Senator Bailey's nominal leadership has been growing for some time. Nearly all of the new senators are expected to line up with the anti-Bailey faction.

Change of Primary Plans in Kentucky Satisfactory All Around.

Louisville, Ky., March 6.—The changing of the primary date from May 27 to July 1 by the Democratic state executive committee has met with approval.

Primary advocates are pleased for the reason that the plan for a convention was knocked out quickly and anti-primary supporters are glad that the time has been extended so they may mass their forces against the opposition.

Suspicion of Foul Play.
Valparaiso, Ind., March 6.—The body of a man found frozen in the ice of Lake Michigan on Feb. 18, near Chesterton, has been claimed by Mrs. Tony Varhel of Michigan City, as that of her husband, who when he started to Chicago on a business trip on Jan. 15 had considerable money. Mrs. Varhel thinks her husband was robbed and murdered.

AITKEN TO DRIVE ONCE MORE

Famous Auto Pilot Enters Sales Department for the National Company at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind.—"John D. Aitken, Automobile Salesman." That is the way the title of the famous National Motor Car racing pilot reads now. Business has lured the daring driver away from the wheel of the big blue machine. Aitken is now associated with Bruce M. Wylie, who has charge of the National branch in Indianapolis. Although Johnny is entered in the 500-mile $25,000 Sweepstakes Race on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway the forthcoming Decoration Day, nevertheless he is about done with the speed game, and did not accompany the National squad on their triumphant march up the Pacific Coast.

VANDERBILT WINNER TO RUN.

After twice winning the Vanderbilt Cup race, one of the hardest road race tests in the world, the famous Alco car driven by Harry Grant will be on the 1911 racing circuit. Probably the first appearance of Grant and his car will be in the $25,000 race of 500 miles at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway next Decoration Day.

SPEEDWAY STANDS SEAT 60,000.

One of the greatest seating capacities of any stadium in the world of sports is that of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Four monster stands seat fully 60,000 persons comfortably and under pressure will accommodate 75,000 spectators.

WESCOTT ENTERS LONG RACE

Automobile Made at Richmond, Ind., to Try for Honors at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Indianapolis, Ind.—One of the entries which has been made in the 500-mile International Sweepstakes Race for $25,000 in gold, to be held on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway next Memorial Day, is a Westcott specially built car, with Harry Knight, one of the youngest speedway drivers in the business, nominated as the pilot. The big motor which the Westcott Company is building for this long race is identical in construction with the motor which is used in the Westcott stock cars, excepting that it is increased in size and horsepower. The smaller Westcott car that Knight has been driving has been a consistent performer in Speedway events of the past and has been especially successful in long races.

Although Knight did not drive in many events in the 1910 season, he piloted his small car through a free-for-all race of 100 miles, and finished second to Eddie Hearne in his big Benz. Later in the season Knight finished second in the Coca Cola Trophy race at Atlanta, losing that event by a margin of about twenty-two seconds. The young driver sent his car over the 100-mile distance at Atlanta in eighty-six minutes and thirty-two seconds. The Westcott car is manufactured at Richmond, Indiana, and entered the racing game only last season. It proved to be speedy and several times it has gone through the long grinds with a nonstop record to its credit.

TRAIN IN DITCH

Memphis Special on the Southern Railway Leaves the Track.

Knoxville, Tenn., March 6.—Eight persons were hurt when all but one of the coaches of the Southern railway train known as the "Memphis Special" were derailed a short distance east of Bearden. The tender of the locomotive left the rails, carrying every coach from the track with the exception of the rear sleeper.

A high embankment against which the derailed coaches were thrown saved them from overturning. Telegraph poles were broken down, cutting Knoxville off from communication to the Southern for over two hours.

Night Rider Witness Guarded.
Hopkinsville, Ky., March 6.—Milton Oliver, chief witness for the prosecution in the cases against Dr. B. A. Amos and five others, charged with participation in a night rider raid on this city, arrived here, accompanied by an escort of soldiers.

Held on Bloodhound Evidence.
Paducah, Ky., March 6.—Grant Smith, a farmer, was arrested in Marshall county on the charge that he set fire to the barn of J. A. Woodall. Bloodhounds followed a trail to Smith's home. On this evidence he was arrested.

Banker Bigelow Released.
Leavenworth, Kan., March 6.—Frank G. Bigelow, the Milwaukee banker, convicted of misuse of funds of the First National bank, has been released from the federal penitentiary here. He had served six of a term of ten years.

A few minutes delay in treating some cases of croup, even the length of time it takes to go for a doctor often proves dangerous. What do you think about clean-up day?

Rush county has Shelby county for a partner in a Senatorial district. It's a shame we can't select our own partners.

Want the next "two-step" Shelby?

The Columbus Republican suggests that the Legislature create a new Senatorial district and call it "Rufus Rastus Johnson Brown."

Prosecutors are to have a straight salary and no fees, according to the edict of the venerable legislative body. Anything just so it's straight.

The sheriff's "in and out" fees are to be collected, but are to go to the county treasurer. The sheriffs are very much put out over that.

All of the home news and a whole lot more beats that all hollow.

We have often wondered if Tom will not be buried about ten feet deeper than J. Frank was.

HOW TO GET RICH.

The men who are rich today, were, in nine cases out of ten, poor in early life. Their earnings were at first very small, but their expenses were still less. The difference was carefully saved, deposited in some safe place, and made to yield interest, and thus foundations were slowly and securely laid for large accumulations. It is in this way that the money has been raised to pay for the comfortable dwellings owned and occupied, in so many cases, by the industrious, sun-bronzed and hard-handed artisans and farmers of our county and State.

"Luck," "good fortune" have much less to do with it than many imagine. When a man begins to spend less than he makes "good fortune" begins. Our savings department was organized for the purpose of receiving small savings and on these we pay 3 per cent interest compounded semi-annually.

RUSH COUNTY NATIONAL BANK.

Which leads us to add that Democrats will do the wrong thing at the right time. Leave it to them.

And again that county surveyor bill may have a local time.

That'll be about all for the Hodges' case, remarks the New Castle Courier and we are doubly thankful for that.

We are patiently waiting for the appearance of the Harem skirt in Rushville. Come on you New Castle fun-makers.

FIND "JOKER" IN REGULATIVE BILL

Local Attorneys Declare Method For Determining Population in Rushville is a Big Hoax.

BENEFIT TO SALOON INTERESTS

Brewers Send Out Copies of New Bill to Commissioners, County Attorney and Auditor.

Among numerous other things, local attorneys, who have been retained by the "drys" believe that they have found a real "joker" in the Proctor restrictive liquor bill, which was signed by the governor Saturday and copies of which will be received, fresh from the State press, in a few days. The "joker" as they see it, is in the manner in which the population may be determined to decide on the number of saloons which shall be in a certain community.

In section four of the act it is stated: "That the number of retail licenses which may be granted in any city or township under this act shall not be more than one for each five hundred inhabitants thereof, which number may be further limited by the board of county commissioners of any county to any number not less than one to each one thousand inhabitants of such city or township."

The above clause, local attorneys declare, is perfectly satisfactory, but it is in the following clause from the same section that they have discovered the alleged "joker": "In determining the number of inhabitants in any city or township in which there is no city located for the purpose of this act, the same shall be taken as being five times the greatest aggregate vote cast for all candidates for any office in such city or township at the last general election held therein preceding the filing of such application for a license, and the number of any inhabitants in any township outside the corporate limits of any city located therein shall be determined by the last United States census taken in each township preceding the filing of such application."

It is impossible to determine the number of voters in Rushville from the last general election, as many precincts extend out of the corporate limits of the city. In that event it is to be supposed that five times the "greatest aggregate vote" in the last city election would be taken as the number of inhabitants in Rushville. If that be the case, the greatest aggregate in the last city election was cast for mayor, J. M. Stevens receiving 611 votes and Mayor B. A.

Black, 720, making a total of 1331. That would make Rushville's population 6,655. Should the commissioners limit the number of saloons to the smallest possible number, one for each one thousand inhabitants, it would mean that Rushville would have six saloons. If in the other extreme, one for every five hundred inhabitants, the number of saloons would be thirteen. Local people feel certain that the population of Rushville is not five thousand or the returns of the last census would have been made long ago.

County Auditor Jesse Stone, County Attorney Will McColgin and members of the county board of commissioners and other public officials today received copies of the new Proctor regulative and restrictive act which was signed by Governor Marshall late Saturday. Copies of the new act, published in booklet form, have been mailed to these officials by the Indiana Association of Brewers, and Senator Stephen B. Flemming of Fort Wayne, who has taken an active part in guiding the bill through the Legislature, has given out a number of copies.

By reason of the new law containing an emergency clause it became effective immediately after it received the approval of Governor Marshall, and because of the many changes made from the present law it was deemed advisable to send out copies of it so those who have to do with enforcing its provisions might know in advance of the publication of the acts of 1911 just what would be their duties under the new act. The booklet contains twenty-nine pages of closely printed matter, and is word for word as the new law will appear in the acts of 1911. As the March meeting of county commissioners throughout the State is due today, Senator Fleming issued a statement Saturday in which he suggested that boards of commissioners take a recess until later in the week before granting any licenses under the new law. This would give them more time to study its provisions.

AMUSEMENTS

The Star Grand will present a big double program tonight under the auspices of the first degree staff of Franklin Lodge No. 35 I. O. O. F. There will be two special films. The first is a Reliance entitled "A Country Girl," and the second is entitled "The Old Man and Jim," or "The Strongest Argument Against War." It is a true military spectacle enacted for the edification of American patriotism and is taken from James Whitcomb Riley's poem of the same name. C. T. Eward will sing the illustrated song, and also a special song of his own composition entitled "Sweetheart of Mine." The Lucas orchestra will furnish the music.

The Thanhouse film, "Delighted Dolly" at the Vaudet tonight, tells the story of a penniless orphan girl stealing into a toy store to inspect a huge doll. She is frightened by a clerk's approach and hides in the doll box. Believing the box to contain a doll which has been ordered for a sick little girl, he ships it off. It turns out to be a lucky move for the little girl for she falls into good hands. The second picture is a Yankee film, "A Ward of Uncle Sam." It is a fine war drama. A new illustrated song will be sung.

The Palace will have for tonight, probably the most sensational film ever shown in this city. It is a Kalem film, "The Runaway Engine." The son of the president of a great railroad system graduates from college and desires to learn the railroad business. He starts in as a fireman. Later he falls in love with the engineer's daughter against his parents' wishes. While the president's car is bowling along at a high rate of speed an engine in some manner gets started and runs away, going toward the president's train. The girl hears of the runaway and mounts her father's engine running it at a high rate of speed toward the oncoming engine. The girl jumps just as the two engines crash together. The locomotives come together in full view of the audience and create a very sensational scene. A new song will be sung.

The Royal Arch degree in Masonry was conferred on eight candidates by Maxwell chapter No. 18, R. A. M. Friday night in the Masonic hall. The candidates were Carl Elliott, Charles M. Hawkins, A. Rothermel, M. S. Hullman, Claude Bower, W. H. Clark, O. M. Hempleman and W. E. Ensminger. The work of conferring the beautiful degree began in the afternoon. At seven o'clock a sumptuous banquet was served by Charles O. Melhorn and the work continued afterward. Masons from Rushville and Liberty were in attendance besides a great gathering of the local members. The affair was a deeply impressive and altogether pleasant one.

The marriage of Miss Frieda Elizabeth Noelke to William Augustus Caldwell, son of Mrs. Sarah Caldwell of North Morgan street, took place at the home of the bride's father, Frederick Noelke in Indianapolis. Only the members of the immediate families were present for the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. J. Christian Hansen, pastor of the St. Paul's German Evangelical church of Indianapolis. The bride wore a pretty gown of white marquisette over white silk and a corsage bouquet of white hyacinths. The decoration for the rooms was entirely of vases of daffodils. Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell left Saturday for California on their wedding trip. Mrs. Sarah Caldwell and daughters, Harriet and Clara of this city attended.

BE UP AND DOING.

Trust no future, how'er pleasant!
Let the dead Past bury its dead!
Act—act in the living present!
Heart within and God o'er-head!
Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time.
Let us, then, be up and doing,
With a heart for any fate;
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labor and to wait.
—Longfellow.

What Was The Matter With The Automobile Industry

IN an advertisement published two weeks ago we said we were going to disclose some interesting facts about the automobile business—and we are. We are going to call a spade a spade and tell you the truth about some things you may have suspected, possibly known, in part, or learned from sorrowful experience.

We, and we believe you, too, are disgusted with the way

Back in 1908 when the first popular priced cars made their appearance with the Regal as the Pioneer in this class, many manufacturers said "they can't build them at that price." There were, however, certain men in the industry who were wise enough to foresee that by using proper business methods, doing away with the enormous waste and overhead expense which had theretofore been a characteristic feature of the automobile "game," as it was called, that a Medium Priced Car could be produced if it were made in large quantities according to a careful design. Later events proved that their predictions were right. These men made a car, gave good value to the owners and were successful, financially.

There were, however, other men, some with very little experience in the industry, who thought that this was such an easy task that they could do the same thing. They immediately began, therefore, to order material for thousands of cars—erected factories over night—shipped their material in carload lots by express and started into the business also. Such was the enormous demand for cars at that time, that for several months these cars were sold in large quantities, in such large quantities in fact, that in order to keep up with the demand work was done in tents, old buildings and in fact in any way to get out the product. Everybody went wild—there was a great hurrah—Promoters saw what they thought was better than a gold mine—Capital was invested in almost fabulous sums in enterprises whose assets consisted, mostly, of a bunch of blue prints, a trade mark name and a smooth tongued, clever advertisement writer or salesman. During the whole year of 1908 the public fell for this "Buy tickets for the Big Side Show" talk. The factories apparently made money and the cars were sold. Some of the shrewdest manufacturers, however, at the end of this season saw that trouble was brewing—that something was bound to break, because no industry, however great, could stand such a strain, such a wasteful method of doing business, especially with such lax and unstable business organizations.

As soon as the alleged manufacturers (?) began to realize this, they saw their only salvation lay in adopting more daring methods, they came out with advertisements, boldly proclaiming their superiority, assuring the public of their sincerity and praising to the skies, the wonderful mechanical perfectness and ability which they claimed their cars possessed. Of course they had to do this. They had ordered thousands of parts—they had built enormous factories—had made large contracts with their dealers—made rosy promises to their owners. They had to do something and this seemed to offer the easiest loophole. But, although the "beloved public" may like to be fooled as P. T. Barnum says, yet it is hard to do it twice in the same place and the cars did not move in such overwhelming numbers as they had predicted and expected.

At the beginning of the 1910 season they found themselves in still worse straits—they put a new frame on the picture, re-gilted it and held it up to the public gaze once more—a beautiful (?) creation BUT at a SACRIFICED PRICE. As at the public auction that we see on our main street every day, only a few of the gullible bought—the rest were "cappers" and men paid to do the shouting. The majority of these cars had to be "carried over" another year.

In the meantime the well established manufacturers who had been doing business upon a safe and sane basis were proceeding slowly and carefully. They were obliged, of course, to enter into competition with the other so called "cars," but their real value and their straight forward and honest treatment of their dealers and owners soon enabled

Circus Barkers, Stock Promoters and High Salaried Slingers of Rhetoric have been "pulling the wool" over the eyes of automobile buyers for their own profit and at the purchasers' expense. So many misstatements and downright falsehoods have been presented to the public as facts that we believe that they will appreciate a clear exposition of the conditions which have and are now governing the Automobile Industry.

them to make still further inroads into the sales of their "fly-by-night" competitors.

Every one knows what has happened—how these companies have been forced into still more desperate straits—how as a last resort they have thrown to the winds any semblance of price maintenance, fair treatment of customers and dealers—how they have attempted to market their product by giving their dealers still larger discounts—how they have given the automobile industry a reputation which it never deserved and never should have had—how they have destroyed the public's confidence and how they have caused the loss of thousands and thousands of dollars not only to themselves but to the industry at large.

A few of these companies have, at last, learned their lesson and are now beginning to put their business upon a safe and honest basis, but unfortunately it will be many years before they can again gain the confidence of those dealers and owners who once purchased their cars. Notwithstanding this fact, however, there are two or three companies who are still pursuing the same old circus methods—still attempting to fool the public in the hopes that they may save some of the thousands of dollars, that they have NOW invested in cars which they had hoped to market Two Years ago.

It is needless for us to call these by name, as their PRICE CUTTING FABRICATIONS, "DIRECT TO

CONSUMER FROM FACTORY" OFFERS, "OUT-PUTS SOLD IN A DAY" AND AUCTION METH-ODS are gradually becoming known to every one interested in the purchase of a motor car.

Now a word in regard to the Regal policy. The men who compose the Regal Motor Car Company are all men who have had a long and successful experience in the manufacturing business. They have been engaged in the manufacture of products where the margin of profit was so small that it was necessary for them to watch every expenditure and proceed with the utmost caution. This experience was, of course, very valuable to them when they started to manufacture automobiles and as a consequence, they decided that their policy should be one of safe and steady development.

The first year, after carefully studying the situation, notwithstanding the fact that the demand was large, they only built 500 cars.

These were distributed in such a way and at such points in the United States, as would enable them to most successfully study demands of the public and determine what was best not only in manufacture, but in organization, treatment of dealers and customers as well. As we have seen this cautious plan proved to be a wise one. We found that the public demand was constantly changing—that new materials were being adopted and we were therefore in a position to take advantage of all of the latest improvements and to produce not a Re-modeled, Patched Up Car, but a New One, up-to-date in every particular.

In the year of 1909, still in the face of a great demand, we only produced 3500 cars. These were ALL successfully disposed of and at the beginning of 1910 when the first sign of trouble began to develop with others, we were enabled to start with a CLEAN SLATE, adopting all the new improvements that had been developed in the industry and were not obliged, as were many of these other manufacturers, to use up OLD MATERIAL bought TWO YEARS previous. We developed a new, up-to-date line of cars, of which 6500 were sold.

Instead of building enormous factories, investing our money in hundreds of new factory machines we only added to our equipment such things as were absolutely necessary. In other words we have, from the very beginning, conducted our business upon a safe and sane basis—upon economical lines.

Our overhead expense does not exceed 5%.

We have tried to build the best cars that we possibly could for the money and still make a fair, legitimate profit.

It was not until this year that we have felt that the capacity and organized conditions of our business were such that we could, with consistency, conduct a large advertising campaign. The time has now arrived, however, when the organization, the cars, the manufacturing facilities, and in fact everything about our institution is in such a condition as to warrant a large and aggressive campaign such as we have now started.

Not until this time has the industry been in such a condition as to make it safe to come out with such plain talk as this, but we believe that the public now knows enough of the business and realizes the situation, to such an extent, as to see for itself why the automobile business is no longer a Game, but has at last arrived at the stage where it may, with propriety, be called, an Industry.

Because of our policy consistently followed we are in a position today to offer you in the Regal line, practical, efficient, economical Automobiles at a moderate price—cars which embody all the refinements and up-to-date features which can possibly be incorporated at the price—such a competitive price as only those who are using up their old material, purchased in 1908 and 1909, can meet.

That is why we wanted you to know the story of the Automobile industry—why we wanted you to become familiar with the foundation upon which we have built—know what our plans are—why Regal cars are best suited to your needs and represent THE BEST VALUE YOU CAN GET FOR YOUR MONEY.

DOINGS OF THE LATE CONGRESS

What Was Done and What Was Left Undone.

BRIEF RECORD OF SESSION

Results of Larger Interest Set Out Here in Tabloid Form For the Instruction of the Hurried Reader Who Is Went to Skip the Usual Stories of Congress From Day to Day—Special Session April 4.

Washington, March 6.—President Taft has fixed April 4 as the date for the convening of the Sixty-second congress in extraordinary session to consider reciprocal legislation. Out of the smoke of the closing battle in congress emerge these results of larger interest:

What Congress Did.
Provision of $3,000,000 for the fortification of the Panama canal.
Provision for two new battleships.
Recodification of the judicial code; regarded as most important for the amelioration of the law's delays.
Creation of forest preserves in the South Appalachian and White mountains.
Providing for the construction of embassy and legation buildings abroad.
Requiring the inspection of locomotive boilers.
Creating Robert E. Peary a rear admiral on the retired list of the navy and formally tendering the thanks of congress to him.
Creating a commission of five senators and five representatives to investigate conditions in Alaska.

What It Failed to Do.
Failure of the Canadian reciprocity agreement and consequent certainty of an extra session.
Failure of the permanent tariff board bill, which passed the senate, but was killed by a filibuster in the house.
Failure of the resolution to admit to statehood Arizona and New Mexico, killed by a filibuster in the senate.
Failure of the proposal to increase the rate of postage on the advertising sections of the large magazines, but a commission provided for to investigate the subject.
Failure of the resolution providing for the direct election of United States senators.
Failure of the general age pension bill.
Failure to act on Ballinger-Pinchot investigation reports.
Failure to enact the ocean mail subsidy, passed by the senate alone.
Failure of the effort to unseat William Lorimer as senator from Illinois on the ground of alleged bribery in his election.
Failure of bill fixing canal tolls and settling form of government for Panama canal zone.
Failure of congressional reapportionment bill based on the new census.

STIRRING THEM UP

Kentucky Bank Directors Must Study Conditions in Their Banks.
Frankfort, Ky., March 6.—Acting on the theory that the most important step to be taken to make the banks of Kentucky better than they are, is to get the directors to study the conditions of the banks with which they are connected. Secretary of State Bruner is sending to each bank director in the state an oath which he is requesting him to sign and return to the office of the secretary of state. This oath is very similar to the one sent to the directors of the national banks, and there are few instances in which the oaths are returned unsigned.

Clara Taylor's Second Venture.
London, March 6.—Mrs. John A. Stirling, formerly Clara Taylor of Washington, whose husband, Captain Stirling, formerly of the Scots Guards, divorced her in March, 1909, will shortly be married to Lord George Hugo Cholmondeley, second son of Marquis Cholmondeley. Before her marriage to Captain Stirling Miss Taylor was a chorus girl.
Failed to Reach Big Roll.
Elwood, Ind., March 6.—The bank of Frankton, five miles southeast of here, was robbed of $150. The combination was worked to the outer doors of the safe. As at Windfall on Thursday night, the yeggmen left before securing the big roll, which was in the inside vault.

Smallpox in Kentucky.
Evansville, Ind., March 6.—Smallpox, prevalent in a number of Kentucky mining towns south of Evansville, caused the city health authorities to take rigid preventive measures against those towns, and close watch is being kept on all incoming trains.
Science and Mathematics Teachers.
Marion, Ind., March 6.—The sixteenth annual meeting of the Indiana Association of Science and Mathematics Teachers will be held here Friday and Saturday. About two hundred teachers of Indianapolis are expected to be present.

GOING TO BRING THE DISPUTE TO AN ISSUE

Chicago Building Trades Have Gone On a Strike.

Chicago, March 6.—A strike of all building trades workmen affiliated with the Chicago Building Trades Council became effective this morning. The strike affects all building operations throughout the city where steamfitters, who are members of the international association, are employed, and marks another phase of the jurisdictional warfare of the United Association of Plumbers, Gas Fitters, Steam Fitters and Steam Fitters' Helpers against the Chicago Steam Fitters' union. President Alpine of the United Association of Plumbers said that every trade affiliated with the Building Trades Council is determined to stand by the plumbers in the fight against the steam fitters, and he added that the strike was ordered for the purpose of bringing the dispute to an issue.

FIXES THE LIMIT

Governor of West Virginia Specifies Subject of Special Legislation.
Charleston, W. Va., March 6.—That Governor William E. Glasscock intends to call the state legislature in special session not later than April 25, and that he will limit the lawmakers to the consideration of the question of direct primaries, was the special announcement made by the West Virginia executive before his departure for the Florida everglades, where he will spend several weeks with Jim Lakin at Dr. Guthrie's habitat on Indian river.
While there are many other measures of importance which the governor has advocated, including the public service commission, the production tax on natural gas and a uniform municipal code, he holds that the consideration of a direct primary law is the most important, and, in fact, fundamental.

A Kentucky Bank Bankrupt.
Elizabethtown, Ky., March 6.—The Nolin Banking company of Nolin, in this county, has gone into voluntary bankruptcy. It is said depositors will be paid in full, and it is thought that the stockholders will not lose any great amount. It is reported that capitalists of Horse Cave and Glasgow will take stock and reorganize the bank.

Put the Bar on Him.
Richmond, Ind., March 6.—James Maher, convicted ten times in the last fourteen months for intoxication, was before Mayor Zimmerman again and the mayor exiled him from this city for life. The mayor told Maher that if he ever came back he would be put in solitary confinement on bread and water.

Death of Mrs. Colfax.
South Bend, Ind., March 6.—On the thirty-second anniversary of her husband's inauguration as vice president of the United States, Mrs. Ellen Wade Colfax, widow of Schuyler Colfax, died at her home here Saturday after an illness of several months. She was seventy-three years old.

Accquitted by Grand Jury.
Connorsville, Ind., March 9.—After two days' deliberation the grand jury found no bill against Clem Hallowell for the killing of Edward Loos Feb. 28, and Hallowell was allowed to go free, the finding of the grand jury being that the killing was done in self-defense.

Portland Goes Dry by 51.
Portland, Ind., March 6.—In the local option election Portland went dry by a majority of 51. Bear Creek township, Jay county, including the town of Bryant, is dry by 21.

CLOSE OF THE LEGISLATURE

Last Day of Sixty-Seventh General Assembly.

EPITOME OF THE WORK DONE

The Governor's Constitution Bill, Revision of Liquor Laws, Change of Local Option Unit, Some Notable Sanitary Laws and Laws Relating to Labor Are Among Acts of Legislature Which Expires at Midnight.

Indianapolis, March 6.—The sixty-seventh session of the General Assembly of the state of Indiana will expire tonight at midnight by limitation, if it does not earlier adjourn for lack of business to keep it going until that hour.

For the first time in years the big appropriation bills have not kept the assembly tied up at the last minute. This year the appropriation bill was divided into a general and a specific bill and these were passed some days ago and reached the governor on Saturday. With these and the "platform" measures out of the way and signed the closing hours were less strenuous than usually marks the hours of an expiring legislature in Indiana.

Many New Laws.

The session closes with a record of about two hundred bills which have been enacted into laws.

Eighty-three laws were added to the statutes of Indiana Saturday, after one of the busiest days in the governor's office since the legislature opened. Among the more important bills which became laws by virtue of the governor's signature was the Proctor regulatory and restrictive liquor bill. The Proctor local option bill No. 3, which fixes the unit for holding local option elections, providing that elections may be held in cities, townships and territory outside of townships, instead of making the county the unit, as under the old law, also was among the measures to which Governor Marshall affixed his signature. The original local option bill which Governor Marshall signed was not believed to be entirely adequate to stand a court test. The bill he signed Saturday corrects the title of the county option bill, which was feared to be unconstitutional, and makes proper provision for the basis of a petition in territories where city and country precinct lines overlap.

With the signing of the restrictive and regulatory bill the operation of the saloon business throughout the state began under the new regime Saturday night. In cities of the first and second classes the saloons may be permitted to remain open until 12 o'clock midnight, instead of closing at 11 o'clock, as under the former law.

The Corrupt Practices Act.

In addition to the two liquor bills Governor Marshall signed the corrupt practices act. This is one of the most important pieces of legislation that has come before the general assembly, making, as it does, stringent provisions for the conduct of elections. The bill limits the amount of contributions which any candidate for political office may give to the central committee in the district in which he is a candidate. The new law prohibits the soliciting of funds for the conduct of the campaign and prohibits any candidate for a judicial office from contributing.

The bill which divides the jurisdiction of the supreme and appellate courts in Indiana, designed to relieve the congested condition of both tribunals, was signed by the governor, as was the bill for the new constitution for Indiana, and the bill which amends the public accounts law by giving prosecutors the right to bring suits against officials whose accounts are found to be improperly placed on the public books. There are a number of other provisions in the new bill regarding the operation of the state board of accounts, among them being a reduction in the salary of the field examiners from $10 a day to $8 a day.

The Registration Act.

Then there was the bill for the registration of voters; the bill providing for the inspection of building and loan associations by the state auditor; the bill providing for the appointment by the governor of a commission to investigate industrial education; the ophthalmia neonatorum bill, providing for the protection of the eyes of children at birth; the bill providing a bounty on crows, and the bill providing that a railway company shall pay wages of discharged employees within twenty-four hours after discharge.

Among other bills which have become laws is the measure providing for the appointment of a locomotive boiler inspector and the uniform caboose bill. The bill was backed by the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and is designed to minimize the number of accidents resulting from short cabooses. Under the new law all caboose cars must be at least twenty-four feet in length. All railroad companies are given until Jan. 1, 1914, to install the regulation cabooses.

The governor also has signed the bill which prohibits the buying and selling of accounts held by merchants for the purpose of obtaining court judgments in other states and disposing of the judgments back to the original claimant.

WILL OPERATE A LECTURE TRAIN

L. E. & W. Plan to Run Corn Improvement Special in Connection With Experiment Station.

WHEAT SPECIAL RUN RECENTLY

A corn improvement lecture train will be operated by the Lake Erie and Western railroad March 21 to 25, 1911, in co-operation with the Purdue experiment station. It will be remembered that the Lake Erie railroad was the first to operate a special educational train in Indiana, the train being run in December, 1905. The work of that train consisted of lectures and demonstrations of seed corn only. The work of this train will consist largely of a discussion on soil improvement as it relates to corn production, special attention being given to the rotation of crops and the fertilizer needs of the soil.

Farmers realize that seed improvement has much to do with the increasing of the yield of corn, but they also realize that the soil is a most important factor. It is felt that the farmers will welcome any information along these lines. The train will start from Lafayette Tuesday, March 21, and will work all of the lines in Indiana, closing the campaign at Muncie Saturday noon.

Full information and special schedule will be published in a few days.

The farm value of the corn crop of the United States in $1,720,000,000.

TOWNSHIP/TRUSTEES MEET

Decide on Date For Eighth Year Examinations.

The regular monthly meeting of the county board of education was held in the court house today. The township trustees who, together with the county commissioners, comprise the board, talked over the matters relative to the schools over which they have supervision. The most important thing accomplished was the fixing of the date for the eighth year examinations, most of which will be held the third Saturday in April.

LIST YOUR AIRSHIP.

"Have you an aeroplane?" If so, don't deny it when the assessor comes around and don't try to hide it.

The foregoing interrogation may not be put to you this spring by the township assessor or his deputies. Yet, if he fails, he will be neglecting a duty of his office for on the assessment sheets aeroplanes are listed for valuation and are among the sixty-nine articles included in the list of property to be asked about by the assessor, who began his annual work yesterday. There has been twenty new questions added to the list to be asked by assessors this year. This is due in part to the new mechanical devices and in part to the fact that stock, especially horses are graded and assessed according to age and class more than in the past.

VIEWERS FILE AMENDED REPORT

Probable That Joint Meeting of Commissioners of Rush, Hancock and Shelby county Will be Called.

DISAGREED AT FIRST SESSION

Since the report of the viewers on the county line road which passes through Hancock, Shelby and this county was refused by the commissioners of the three counties at their joint meeting here recently, the viewers have filed an amended report. Another joint meeting of the commissioners will be held in about ten days. The session will be called by County Auditor Jesse Stone, who has not yet decided on the exact date.

It will be remembered at the other meeting the fact that two bridges, the estimated cost of which was $2,500 apiece, were included in the cost of building the road, caused the commissioners from Shelby county and two from Hancock county to enter strenuous objections against accepting the report. The cost of the two structures would be partially assessed against Hancock township, Shelby township, when that township would receive none of the benefits. Horace Chadwick of VanBuren township, Shelby county, was appointed viewer to represent Hanover township in the proceedings.

Forty years ago the paper making industry of Finland was in its infancy. Now it is worth $9,000,000 a year.
